

MANY BISHOPS AT HOWDEN SERVICES

Washington Pastor Will Be Consecrated at St. John's Church Wednesday.

With Bishop Daniel S. Tuttle officiating, and in the presence of Bishops Harding, of the District of Columbia; Vincent, of Southern Ohio; Rowe, of Alaska; Murray, of Maryland; Gibson, of Virginia; Gravitt, of West Virginia; Reinlander, of Pennsylvania; Darlington, of Harrisburg; Whitehead, of Pittsburgh; Coleman, of Maine; and Tucker, of Southern Virginia, the Rev. Frederick Bingham Howden, for the past two years rector of St. John's Church, in Georgetown, will be consecrated Bishop of New Mexico. He will leave Washington for Albuquerque January 26 to take up his new duties.

The consecration services will be held in the church in which he has labored since coming to Washington at 11 o'clock next Wednesday morning. St. John's choir of boys and men will be augmented for the occasion in order to properly render the elaborate musical program that has been prepared.

Bishop Howden was born in West Brighton, Staten Island, N. Y., following preparatory schooling, he went to the University of Toronto, from which he was graduated in 1881. In 1882 his alma mater conferred upon him the degree of master of arts. He entered the General Theological Seminary, in New York, and completed the course in one year, graduating with high honors in 1884. A short time after his graduation he was ordained to the diaconate by Bishop Potter, of New York. Six months later Bishop Potter received him into the priesthood.

Mr. Howden's first work was in Detroit, where he was appointed assistant at St. John's Church. He returned to New York in 1885, as assistant in Calvary parish. In 1897 he was chosen rector of Emmanuel Church, Cumberland, Md., where he was five years. In 1900 he was created archdeacon of Cumberland. Two years later Dr. Howden was appointed rector of St. John's, Georgetown.

Dr. Howden's wife was a Miss Fisher, a member of the Cushman family, of New York. They have seven children, four boys and three girls.

TAX CONFERENCE DUE TOMORROW

Virginia Legislators and Alexandria Chamber of Commerce Will Try to Reach Decision on Plan For Equitable Distribution of Levy on Property—Would Be Relief.

WASHINGTON TIMES BUREAU.
ALEXANDRIA, VA., JAN. 9.
At the conference to be held in Alexandria Saturday afternoon between members of the legislature and the chamber of commerce an effort will be made to reach a conclusion on the subject of taxation that will result in concerted action at the coming session of the legislature. The principal subject for discussion will be the plan proposed by C. Lee Moore, State auditor, which provides for segregation of taxes in such a way that cities and counties now paying more than their proportion for the State's expenses will be relieved of a portion of this burden. This plan has already received the approval of a special committee of the chamber of commerce.

The invited guests to the conference are J. Fred Birrell, of Alexandria; W. T. Oliver, of Fairfax; C. J. Metzger, of Prince William; R. T. Noland, of Loudoun; J. O. Daniel, of Stafford; W. N. Tiffany, of Loudoun; J. H. Warren, of Front Royal; G. L. Fletcher, of Fauquier; Senator R. E. Thornton, of Fairfax; Dr. Truman A. Parker, president of the Leesburg board of trade; Harry Hammond, president of the Retail Merchants' Association of Alexandria; John G. Graham, president of the Real Estate and Investment Corporation, of Alexandria; and Robert S. Barrett, M. T. Dwyer, James F. Peyton, and A. J. Wedderburn, of Alexandria. About thirty members of the chamber of commerce are expected to attend.

S. SEWALL CISSEL PNEUMONIA VICTIM

Head of Milling Company Dies at His Home on Thirty-
First Street.

S. Sewall Cissel, head of the G. W. Cissel Milling Company, and a member of one of the oldest families of Georgetown, died at his home, 1643 Thirty-first street northwest, this morning about 3 o'clock. Mr. Cissel was forty-nine years old.

About three years ago he suffered a stroke of paralysis, and his health had been impaired since that time. The immediate cause of death was pneumonia. Mr. Cissel was born in Washington in 1865, and was the son of George W. Cissel, founder of the Cissel milling interests. He was educated in the Washington public schools, and graduated from Columbian College.

Mr. Cissel was one of the best known business men of Georgetown. He was a director in the Farmers and Mechanics' National Bank of Georgetown, and a member of Christ Episcopal Church. Mr. Cissel leaves a widow, Mrs. Ada W. Cissel, and a daughter, Mrs. Elsie Cissel Harden.

Funeral services will be held at the residence Monday morning at 11 o'clock.
